

OHIO STATE FAIR ITEMS A RECORD BREAKER PROMISED

Over five hundred farmer boys have made application for the Free Trip to the Big Fair. One mail delivery brought one hundred and thirty requests.

Every county should be represented by some kind of an exhibit.

No good farmer should hesitate or be afraid to become one of the State Fair exhibitors. Come to think about it, the people of one county are just about the same as are found in the other.

Don't fail to see the BEE MAN WONDER. He washes his face with bees and does many other surprising things with the honey makers and gives instruction in the care of bees.

The man in the glass water tank will do many wonderful things under water. Only the highest class attractions permitted on the grounds.

Adjutant General Weybrecht has selected the finest types of men from his National Guard soldiers to police the grounds. A few of the best men are taken from each regiment. This insures good order and perfect safety.

The Live Stock Exhibit at the State Fair will be unsurpassed. Live Stock is a valuable adjunct to the farming business. It will pay every farmer to be at the ring side when the animals are shown.

The Horticulture Exhibit this year will excel that of any previous years. The results of pruning and spraying will be shown and compared with the old way of neglecting the orchards.

Every Home-Maker will be interested in the Woman's Building this year. The premiums have been increased and the display will have a thousand suggestions for beautifying and adorning the home. Ladies should not fail to spend plenty of time here.

The Fair will be open Day and Night. The band concerts, Strong Fee Attractions, costly fireworks and the magnificent portrayal of Perry's Great Battle and Victory on Lake Erie, which requires several hundred people, will make the evening program entertaining.

The State Fair Races will please the thousands who like the sport. The Great Grand Stand has had its capacity increased to accommodate those whose blood runs fast when they see the flag, wire home-stretch, and the winners.

The most of our troubles never happen. Visitors can find plenty of accommodations while in Columbus. Hundreds of private residences will take roomers at reasonable rates. The sign "Furnished Rooms" may be seen in the windows of almost any good residence by walking along any street.

The price of admission is fifty cents. No passes. A fifty cent piece is the ticket. After 5 o'clock p. m. the admission is twenty-five cents.

The Farmer Boys are seeing their friends and doing their best to get votes. Some have enlisted their Congressman.

Good water and plenty of it will be supplied. Seats for rest will be found upon all parts of the grounds.

Hundreds of people will come to the Fair in automobiles. The machines will be parked on eastern side of grounds and guarded by competent persons. Fifty cents will be charged for each machine to enter the grounds.

The Art Hall will be a strong feature this year. Premiums have been greatly increased and better classified.

The Sheep Industry will be well represented. Ohio is well in the lead in this. Hundreds of buyers will come for the sole purpose of purchasing a good animal. Every lover of Mary's lamb should donate a good word for the Fair.

The interesting and instructive Wool Exhibit will be an educator in its line. Prof. C. S. Plumb expects this to surpass anything of the kind ever seen in Ohio.

The work of the Live Stock Division of the Ohio Department will be worth the farmer's trip to the Big Fair. Results of immunizing against hog cholera will be shown along with many other valuable illustrations and demonstrations.

The Ohio Experiment Station Exhibits will be worth a whole day of study by any farmer or citizen. A farmer last had not looked at this exhibit ten minutes until he remarked "I am already repaid for my trip to Columbus." This is the greatest educator in Ohio.

The Great Machinery Parks will cover acres. The newest and best will be displayed.

The Farm Press will have headquarters in their buildings east of Agriculture Hall.

Every lady who is willing to cut Apple Pie in four pieces instead of six will be admitted free on the first day of the Fair, Monday, August 28th.

At the meeting to select the Farm Boy for the free trip, no proxies can be voted. Those entitled to vote must be there themselves. No delegate can have more than one vote.

The July and August numbers of the Official Bulletin issued by the Ohio Department of Agriculture are especially valuable. They can be had for the asking.
